Andrej Imamovic aka D Liner is a producer, DJ, and longtime music activist from Sarajevo, and these days he is living between Berlin and his hometown. This ex drummer is involved in electronic music scene since 2001, and hosting a radio show since 2003 on a national radio station BHR1. Beside Techno and Minimal, he also produces experimental electronic music under the pseudonym C Photon and House influenced sounds, together with his brother, as Brothers For Real. His latest effort, "Fields" EP, has been published on Circuits, a label that he runs together with his friend Irie Electric.

New D Liner single for Circuits, "Tunnel of Love" also features remake by talented Croatian producer Davor O. Original track is a melancholic Minimal House piece, with subtle beats, reverbed percussions and warm chords, produced in old fashion way, recorded in one take using hardware only. Remake of the track by Davor O is beautiful, slowly developing track, with diverse selection of sounds.
